The Case of Mackenzie.

In the Circuit Court on Monday, Judge BETTS delivered his charge to the Grand Jury on the questions propounded by it in relation to the complaints against Capt. Mackenzie and Lieut. Gansevoort. He reviewed the various regulations coverning the Navy antecedent to the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and the laws passed by Congress on the subject since. The principle that Courts Martial have exclusive jurisdiction in all cases of crime committed on board vessels of war by persons attriched to the Navy has been entertained for more than forty years, since the passage of the act of 1800. It has been acquiesced in by the Supreme Court, and supported by the opinion of Judge Marshall and other eminent men, including the recent opinion of Judge Kent. The Circuit Court receives its power, as Courts Martial do, from acts of Congress. If a doubt exists as to the constitutionality of a law, that doubt should be interpreted by the inferior Courts in favor of the law until passed upon by the Supreme Court. This Court does not consider that it should be the first to alter the principle as laid cown in a case as relates to the accused, which might affect their lives. [Here there was applause from the audience.] The Court does not consider itself as having jurisdiction in the case, yet will be happy to receive any thing from the Grand Jary which it may please to offer.

The Court would remark on the other points of law, that Civil Courts have jurisdiction over homicides committed on b ard vessels of war by persons not belonging to the Navy. As to the mutiny on board the Somers, it is a subject on which the Grand Jury is not authorized to act. The Grand Jury then occupied a short time in deliberation, and returned that they declined acting upon the complaints; after which it adjourned sine die.

MRS WOOD, THE PEERLESS ENGLISH SONG STRESS, IN A CONVENT !- The following account of Mrs. Wood's conversion to Catholicism, which we find in Wilmer & Smith's European Times, of the 4th inst. will be read with great interest by that lady's numerous admirers in this country:

This lady, so well known in the United States, has occupied much attention lately, from the circumstance of her having embraced the Roman Catholic religion, with the intention of taking the veil. A Yorkshire newspaper, published in the district where Mrs. Wood and her husband have lived of late years, states that the lady has had a visited America with her present husband, arising out of the following circumstances: In that year she gave her gratuitous services to a religious Catholic society in Boston, and afterward she had a small testimonial presented to her, singularly and beautifully written on tinted paper. The following is a copy: "Madam-This is but a slight token of the orphan's gratitude-butitis hallowed by the orphan's prayer. Whatever is happiness on earth may it be yours-and when earth's labors are done, may those exquisite and thrilling tones which have relieved our wants, be blended with the seraph voices around the throne of God in Heaven. Written by an orphan."

This affecting testimonial has preyed upon her mind ever since, and often has she expressed her admiration of the religion and beauty which she there became more directly conversant with. To the impression this circumstance made upon her mind is attributed the change in her religious views. In reply to certain insinuations as to the cause of the extraordinary step she has taken, Mrs. Wood addressed the following letter to one | The Four Crowns, &c., situated to the south of of the local papers:

: SIR: Having understood that a russor has been circirculated in the neighborhood of Wakefield, imputing that the ill treatment of Mr. Wood has forced ne into a convent, I feel it imperative on me to-give the most unqualified contradiction to the report, and to state that Mr. Wood's conduct has been uniformly kind and indulgent. MARY ANNE WOOD Convent, Micklegate-bar, York, Feb. 17, 1843. MARY ANNE WOOD.

It is admitted on all hands, that they lived on the most happy terms, and that her marriage with Mr. Wood has been as felicitous as her first marringe with Lord William Lennox was the reverse. But although professionally popular in the provinces since that event, where she has realized a handsome fortune, Mrs. Wood has never been able to make good her stand in London. Up to that time she was one of the greatest favorites in the British metropolis. The Dublin Evening Post gives the following statement:

To dispose of all scepticism as to the conversion of Mrs. Wood to the Roman Catholic religion, we are enabled to state, through the kindness of a Protestant gentleman of this city, a friend of ours-Mr. Robert Brennan, (who will excuse our giving his name)-that he, after using his utmost endeavors to dissuade Mrs. Wood from the step she was about to take, accompanied that lady, on Saturday last, from the residence of Mr. Wood to the convent at York, where she now is-that Mr. Wood, on their separation, made for her an ample provision, should she either take the veil or return to live in the world. The separation of Mr. and Mrs. Wood was solely on the ground of the impos-sibility of her being received into the Catholic church without resolving on such separation, as that church does not recognise the doctrine of divorce, and Mrs. Wood felt there could not be any compromise in matters that regarded eternity. The parting of Mrs. Wood from Mr. Wood and their infant son, was truly affecting, and proved the intensity of their attachment, the sacrifice they made, and the triumph of religion over this world It appears that the decision of Mrs. Wood was no sudden ebulition. On the contrary, she had been for several months in communication with the zealous and truly pious Roman Catholic clergyman of Wakefield, the Rev. Mr. Morris, whom she had selected as her instructor in the tenets of that church, into which she was publicly received on Sunday, the 5th of February, in the chapel of Wakefield, where she made her first communion. agent out has been

LORD BROUGHAM AND M. DE TOCQUEVILLE .- A correspondence has taken place between M. de Tocqueville and Lord Brougham, arising out of the assertion of the latter in the House of Lords that M. de Tocqueville in his Chamber of Deputies speech on the Treaties of 1831 and 1833 "had shown marvelous ignorance of the right of search question." The French Deputy repels, with a good deal of acrimony, the charge of ignorance, and denies that he wished to produce "irntation" between the two countries. He accuses Lord Brougham of uttering a "sheer calumny," "an odious imputation" in saying that he desired to engender bud feelings between England and France. Lord Brougham, who replies to his correspondent in the third person, after going into a brief analysis of the speech in the Chambers, repeats that M. de Tocqueville expressed himseli in a way to show his ignorance of the American Treaty of 1823, in which the United States aceeded to the right of search; and he concludes by expressing his sorrow that he has given offence to M. de Tocqueville, but "he is far from daring to imitate the abusive and unbecoming style of his letter."

The London Heraid learns from "a respectable and well informed source," that French leaning to Catholicism since 1836, when she first diplomacy in Brazil has accomplished the following arrangements:

"The disputed boundary-line between Brazil and French Guiana has to be settled by the cession to France of eighty leagues of the Brazilian territory. The marriage of the Prince de Joinville with the Princess Januaria is resolved on; and as, by the law of Brazil, that Princess cannot leave the empire until her Imperial brother shall have issue of his own to the Crown, the Prince de Joinville be appointed Governor of French Guiana and reside in the Province of Brazil searest to that French colony. It is proposed that a corps d'armee shall be stationed in French Guiana to give eclat to the Royal Government, and to aid in such other purposes as events may render advantageous to French interest in South America.

ISLANDS OF THE PACIFIC.—It is reported that, with a view to counteract the influence of France, growing out of its recent acquisitions in the Pacific, the English have resolved to take possession, if it should not be too late, of the Isles of Osnabruck the Marquesas Islands, as well as of the Isle of Jesus, at the north-west of those Islands. These stations are regarded of great importance as points of observation. If, however, the English expedition, on its arrival at these several places, finds them already in possession of the French, it will content itself with seizing on such other unoccupied points as it shall consider most favorable. The Convention with Mexico.

Whatever circumstances have kitherto prevented the official promulgation of the Convention recently oraises highly a series of 'Letters from New- concluded by the United States and Mexico-perhaps the temporary absence from Washington of City Hall: sessed of a knowledge of its provisions, why we should not communicate them to our readers, a number of whom, probably, are interested in them, directly or indirectly. The Convention was concluded at Mexico, between our Minister, General Thompson, and M. Bocanegra and M. Gorostiza, the Mexican Ministers of Foreign Relations and Finance. The following are its provisions:

ART. 1. On the 30th day of April, 1815, the Mexican Government shall pay all the interest which may then be due on the awards in layor of claimants under the convention of the Hilh of April, 1889, in gold or silver money, in the city of Mexico...
ART. 2. The principal of the said awards and the interest accruing thereon shall be paid in five years, in equal instal-ments every three months, the said term of five years to commence on the 30th day of April, 1943; aforesaid.

ART. 4. The Mexican Government hereby solemnly pledges the proceeds of the direct taxes of the Mexican Re-public for the payment of the instalments and interest aforesaid; but it is understood that whilst no other fund is thus specifically by pottlecated, the Government of the Uni-ted States, by accepting this pledge, does not incur any ob-ligation to look for payment of those instalments and interingution to look for payment of those listalments and laterest to that fund alone.

Art. 5. As this new arrangement, which is entered into for the accommodation of Mexico, will involve additional charges of freight, commission, &c., the Government of Mexico hereby agrees to add two and one half per centum on each of the aforesaid payments on account of said charges.

Art. 6. A new convention shall be entered into for the settlement of all claims of the Government and citizens of the United States against the Republic of Mexico which settlement of all claims of the Government and citizens of the United States against the Republic of Mexico which were not finally decided by the sole commission which met in the City of Washington, and of all claims of the Govern-ment and citizens of Mexico against the United States. ART. 7. The ratifications of this convention shall be exchanged at Washington within three mostls after the date thereof, provided it shall arrive at Washington before the adjurnment of the present session of Congress; and, if not, then within one month after the meeting of the next Congress of the United States.

We do not know whether it be necessary to add that the Convention, as concluded, was substantially approved, before its conclusion, by the representatives of a large majority in value of the parties immediately interested. The day is not ar distant, it will be observed, (30th April.) when the first payment under the Convention is to be made in the city of Mexico. [Nat. Intel.

IT Dr. Starkweather's Hepatic Elixir. CRRTIFICATES—Important Testimony.—If larther proof is required to establish the fact of the inestimable value of Dr. Starkweather's Hepatic Elixir, the following communication from the Hoa. Samuel W. King, Governor of the State of Rhoife Lland, contains adequate testimony of the State of Rhode I land, contains adequate test in my to substantiate it beyond dispute, and must put entirely at rest the idea that this potent remedy is classed with the many useless and dangerous nostrums which are pained upon the public merely for the sake of gain. Please read the following statements communicated to the undersigned by his Excellency, under date of Johnston, Jan. 29 1842.

Mr. Charles Dyer, Jr.—My Dear Sie: Your comaunication of yesterday, asking my opinion of Dr. Starkweathee's Hepatite Effxir, has been received this morning. In reply, I will inform you that my confidence in patent medicines generally is not very flattering. I have had too much reason to believe that unprincipled men will often palm upon their fellow citizens their useless, if not dangerous not trums, for the sake of gain, the use of which takes up that invocational and critical period of time, without producing trums, for the sake of gain, the use of which takes up that important and critical period of time, without producing any guod effect, when otherwise, perhaps, proper remedies would have been used, and much suffering and distress prevented. For that reason I have not used them, feeling myself and family to be much safer under the direction of my family physicians; but having been afflicted for the last six years with difficulties in the side and chest, unconfortable and often distressing, painful and somewhat alarming, and from which I could get only temporary relief, I very fortonstely noticed your advertisement of the medicine in question. Thave been a school-boy with Dr. Starkweather, and had with him a long and intimate acquaintance when and had with him a long and intimate acquaintance when I we were young men; and from my knowledge of him, I thought him is capable of practising deception on any person. This fact induced me to try Dr. Starkweather's Heson. This rand by its use I now believe myself to be en-ticely cured. I need not, therefore, say to you that I consider it of great value. I certainly think its discovery of great public importance. The first bottle I took gave me much relief, which regularly progressed, until I had taken six bottles, when I discontinued it, having, thank God! no ar her use for it at present.

with each succeeding day some new problem is solved, or some profound secret revealed, having an important and direct bearing over man's highest destinies. If we take a retrospective view over the past tweaty years, how is the mind struck with wonder! What rapid strides has science made in every department of civilized like! particularly in that which relates to the knowledge of the humansystem in health and disease. How valuable and indispensable are the curative means recently discovered through the agency themistry! How does the imagination kindle and our adstandard of perfection, of the present time! Through the elaborate bestign, on the present time! Through the elaborate bestign, ions of i hysiology, or the science of Lira, and the balloology of prevalent discusses, much valuable practical knowledge has been gained. In consequence of becoming acquainted with the organization, the elements of the various tissues and quaesters of the system, remedies the base concept after and discussed areally add night to on glow at the ingenuity, the near approach to the have been sought after and discovered exactly adapted to combine with, neutralize and expel morbife matter, the cause of disease, and substitute healthy action in its place. The beautiful simplicity of this mode of treatment is not only suggested by the pathelogy of diseases, not only grate-ful to the sufferer, but perfectly in consonance with the operations of Nature, and satisfactory to the views and reasonings of every intelligent, reflecting mind. It is thus that Sanns's SARSAPARILLA, a scientific combination of essential principles of the most valuable vegetable substances, operates upon the system. The Sarsaparilla is combined with the most effectual aids, the most salutary productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom; and its unprecedented success in the restriction to health of those who had long pined under the most distressing chronic maladies, has gives it an exalted character, furnishing as it does evidence of its own intrinsic value, and recommending it to the afflicted in terms the afflicted only can know. It has long been a most important desideratum in the practice of medicine to obtain a remedy similar to this—one that would act on the liver, stomach and bowels with all the precision and petency of mineral preparations, yet without any of their deleterious effects upon the vital powers of the system The attention of the reader is respectfully called to the following certificates. However great achievements have following certificates. However great achievements have heretofore been made by the use of this invaluable anedicine, yet daily experience allows results still more remarkable. The proprieters here avail themselves of the apportunity of saying it is a source of coastant satisfaction that they are made the means of refleving such an amount of suffering. NEWARK, N. J. Dec. 13, 1842, Messrs. Sands: Gent-Words cannot express the gratified of the same of the same tuesirs. Sands: Gent-Words cannot express the grati-tude I feel for your treatment to me, a stranger suffering under one of the most loathsome siseases that na ure is ca-pable of bearing. The diseases with which I was afflicted commenced with inflammation of the eyes, in the year 1886, which caused aimost total blindness. For this I was treated and finally relieved, but the remedies were such as located and finally relieved, but the remedies were such as to cause the development of a scrotulous affection on my left arm near the cibow.

"The pain extended from the shoulder to the ead of, my fingers, and for two years my sufferings were beyond discription, I tried various remedies and consulted different Physicians in New-York and amongst them the late Dr. Bushe, who told me the disease of the arm was caused by the large quantity of mercury taken to sure the inflammation of my eyes.

My surierings continued, the arm enlarged, lumburs formed in different places, and in a few months discharged, making ten running ulcers at one time, some above and some below the elbow, and the discharge was so offensive that no person conid-bear to be in the room where I was.—I then applied to another distinguished Physician, who told it airputation of the arm was the only thing that could save may like, as it was impossible to coure so dreadful a disease; but as I was unwiding to consent to it, he recommended me to use [Swafints Panacea Treely; which I did without deriving but little benefit. "For three years I was unable to raise use Swaim's Panacea freely; which I did without deriving buildite benefit. "For three years I was unable to raise my hand to my head or comb my hair, and the scrofula flow made its appearance on my head, destroying the bone in different places, causing extensive ulcerations and I feared it might reach and sestroy the brain—the head swelled very much, accompanied with violent pain, namerous externa i remedies were recommended, but they did no good.—About a year since I was taken severely ill with a swelling of the body from head to foot, so that I was entirely helpless, the Doctor advised me to go to the Hospital, for he did not understand my cause; for the last few months I had been of the body from head to Joot, so that I was entirely neighbors, the Doctor advised me to go to the Hospital, for he did hot anderstand my case; for the last few months I had been affected with a severe pain in both sides, at times so hard I could scarcery get my breath. A hacking cough constantly annoyed me, and this combined with my other maladies, rendered me truly miserable. Such, gendemen, had been my situation for seven years of my life when I commended the use of your Sarsapai Illia, but as my case was considered begiess, and the near, prospect of a speedy dissolution scemed inevitable, I felt but little encouragement to persevere. The persuasion of fricinds induced me to try your needledne, which in a few days produced a great change, in my system generally, by causing an appetite, relieving the pains, and giving me strength; as success inspires confidence, I was encouraged to persevere, my pains grew easier, my strength returned, food relished, the nicers healed, hew deah forned, and I once more left within me that I might get well. I have now used the Sarsaparilia about two months and am like a different being. The arm that was to be angulated has entirely healed, a thing that scened unpossible. I can scarcely believe the evidence of my own eyes, but such is te fact, and it is now as useful as at any period of my life, and my general health is better than it has the was trangle in the word! how many thousands heathern for years past.

Health; what magic in the word! how many thousands have sought it in to reign lands and suring clones, and have sought in vale! Yet is cause to me when I had given up to die, and as I feel the pulsations of health coursing through my veins, my whole heart and soul go forth in tervent gratitude to the author of all our sore mercies, that he use of Truly have you proved yourself the good Samarian to the amortes, for next to my Greator my file in indepted to you for rather) the use of your invaligable Sarsaparilla. The value of such a medicine is countless beyond price, movey cannot pay for fi. I have been ruleed from death, I may say, for my friends and myself thought wimpossible I could recover. And now gentlemen some me to add another proof certified too by my friends and guardinas a just acknowledgement of the virtues of your health friends. as a just acknowledgement of the virtues of your beatth re-storing Sarsaparilla. That the afflicted may also use it and enjoy the benefits it alone can conier, is the heartfelt, fervent wish of their and your friend.
